CONTENTS

Reduction of Cavitation Damage in Hydroelectric Turbines Through the Use of Field Modification to Bucket Contours
G. G. O'Haver 1

On the Cavitation Intensity Estimation in Hydraulic Machines
J. Kirejczyk 7

Determination of Cavitation for High Pressure Pumps
N. Nassif, J. Hussein, G. S. Jakubowski, and M. Lesniak 13

Service Life of Pelton Runners Under Corrosion Fatigue
H. L. Grein and R. Angehrn. 21

Adjustment Procedures for Mechanical Governors
B. Duncan 29

Analysis of Reverse Waterhammer in Draft Tubes of Turbines
W. Rongqiao. 35

Causes and Remedy of Fatigue Cracks in Runners
C. Liess, G. Fischer, J. Hilgendorf, and M. Lux 43

Early Detection of Shaft Cracks on Fluid-Handling Machines
D. E. Bently and A. Muszynska 53

Trouble Shooting of a Vertical Multi-Stage Cryogenic Pump
C. M. Chang and F. W. Braun. 59

Cleaning California's Clear Creek Tunnel
L. R. Boll and N. P. Prokopovich 65

Determination of Pump Rotor Critical Speeds During Operation Through Use of Modal Analysis
W. D. Marscher 71
